

Vic Toews Speaks In Winkler

Canada has established itself as a trading nation, having worked on a number of trade agreements like the Free Trade Agreement with the U.S.

That comment from Treasury Board President Vic Toews who spoke at a Winkler Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday.

He says we need to continue in that direction, because taking a protectionist attitude could have serious ramifications regarding the ability to maintain and expand the economy.

Toews says taking a protectionist attitude will not allow for expansion of industries, but rather limit them to their abilities and opportunities in the markets.
